fishing, and his wish was to go fishing. At first, it didn't appear that the weather would cooperate for the trip. "You don't believe in God, you wouldn't have believed in me then, too," Crawford said. "It rained 30 inches in the previous 90 minutes. I asked him if he had his fishing gear, and he said 'no.'"

"That's what happened next was amazing," Crawford said. "I went to the fishing spot and looked for him. I found him sitting on the dock, fishing. I asked him if he wanted to come to the boat, and he said yes."

On the way, Noah desperately wanted to go fishing, but the weather was just too bad. Crawford decided to make the best of it and take Noah to the nearest fishing spot. "It was amazing," Crawford said. "He was really excited and wanted to keep fishing." Crawford and Noah sat on the dock for about an hour, but the rain didn't stop.

"I told him, 'OK, we're fishing right here,'" Crawford said. "I didn't think he would like it, but he did."

"You need to look at me and see," Crawford said. "It was a beautiful day. Noah was happy and he enjoyed it."

"At least he took his medicine," Crawford joked. "I think he was happy, but I'm not sure." Crawford and Noah went back to the hospital, but Noah still wanted to go fishing. "He kept asking, 'Can we go fishing again?'" Crawford said.

After the fishing trip, Crawford and Noah went to the hospital. Noah was doing much better, and Crawford said he was "very happy and very excited." Crawford said he was glad to have been able to bring Noah some joy.

"He's been through a lot, and it's been tough for him," Crawford said. "But he's been very strong and very brave." Crawford said he was glad to have been able to make Noah's wish come true.

"I think it was a really great day for him," Crawford said. "I hope he enjoyed it as much as I enjoyed watching him enjoy it." Crawford said he was glad to have been able to bring Noah some happiness.

"He's been very special to me," Crawford said. "He's been a great kid, and he deserves a great day." Crawford said he was glad to have been able to make Noah's wish come true.
